Notes for the Team Coach

Knowledge of chess is not essential for the Coach!

A team numbers four players. All players should have a sound grasp of the rules of the game. A fifth player can be used as a reserve.

Players should be ranked by approximate playing strength, from number 1 (strongest) down to number 4 (weakest). Players are usually able to accurately rank themselves. Choose a team captain (usually the strongest player). If you have extra players, consider fielding an additional team.

Get the team to think up a name! It is helpful if your school appears in the team name (e.g. Waikuku Wolves, North Loburn Knights, etc).

Encourage the team to get in some practice. The more practice the better! Arrange a mini-tournament so players get to experience a competitive environment.

The Coach will need to get the team to the venue ready for a 9:30am start. The Coach should remain with the team while the games are played.

The games should be completed by 3:30pm.

The Coach should ensure that each player has their lunch with them.

North Canterbury Chess will provide all the equipment required for the competition.

School uniforms are at the discretion of the school.
